Dr Stewart Adams Bridge User Counts Privacy Notice

As part of the safe and efficient operation of the road network, Nottingham City Council is deploying a traffic count sensor to monitor the number of pedestrians and cyclists using the Dr Stewart Adams bridge which links Lenton and the Boots site with Nottingham Science Park and University Boulevard.

We will use the information provided by the sensor to help inform future improvements to the infrastructure of the Nottingham highway network. The basis under which the Council uses personal data for this purpose is that this is necessary for the performance of a task carried out in the public interest by the Council or in the exercise of official authority vested in the Council.

In the first 31 days of the sensor becoming operational, Vivacity Ltd, who process this data on behalf of Nottingham City Council, will undertake video recording on an intermittent basis for the sole purpose of system testing and development. After this time the sensor will be fully operational and produce anonymous data only.

The information provided by you may also be used for the purpose of any other function carried out by the council. Information about these functions and the legal basis on which information is used for them can be found at
